One set converges to the eigenvalues of a conforming discretization, while the other set corresponds to spurious eigenvalues which are damped proportionally to τ. Numerical experiments also demonstrate that undamped spurious modes present in both in the limit of zero and large penalization parameters are damped for moderate values of the upwind parameter.